

NHRMC and Duke Proposed Strategic Partnership

A Once in a Generation Transformational Opportunity

Forge a true partnership.

As one of two healthcare hubs in the broader Duke organization, NHRMC will be a true partner with a leadership voice.

Maintain local control.

Local NHRMC leadership, accountable to a local NHRMC governing board comprised of local residents and representatives.

Increase health care access and choice.

Invest in primary care and behavioral health access, while utilizing Duke's advanced care expertise to expand NHRMC's specialty and subspecialty services to keep even more care close to home.

Address health inequities.

Engage and partner with the community at the grassroots level, while utilizing Duke's social and population health data and analytical expertise to continuously advance local health equity.

Educate and train the future of health care.

Grow and expand local medical education and training programs, backed by Duke's nationally renowned and fully integrated academic platform, to develop NHRMC team members and meet the health care needs of New Hanover's growing population.

Grow the local economy.

Duke is committed to being a strong corporate citizen and active civic leader, working to increase jobs and grow and diversify the local and regional economies.
